Our latest survey explores the situation of gifted and talented pupils who may not always achieve their full potential due to a variety of factors. Have you worked with such pupils in the classroom? What kind of support works well in your experience? Share your views in this short survey by 14 July 2023.

The European Toolkit for Schools promotes school success, inclusive education and well-being at school. While the final version of the toolkit is being set up, you can discover a number of new and updated resources.

Content by the latest focus areas

Early childhood education and care (ECEC)

Read first how systemic support for ECEC teachers is fundamental to provide inclusive, high-quality early years education. You can then find practical inspiration from several European projects that aim to improve outdoor learning and ease transitions, along with the Academy of the little ones that cooperates closely with a local university in Lithuania.

Discover through these Erasmus+-funded teaching materials how early age is ideal time to raise children’s interest about cultural heritage and how teaching healthy behaviours is important to prevent child sexual abuse. The latest publications illustrate the importance of providing a quality ECEC service (CIDREE), show how to optimise digitalisation for younger children (OECD) and emphasise the need to professionalise ECEC staff (Eurochild).
